

Biography

Meri Page is an artist, designer, and educator based in New York. Page's work has been exhibited in the United States, the Czech Republic, the U.K., and South Korea. Her current project Seaweed Press is an artist book publishing project exploring themes of the land and the sea utilizing personal work and archival materials.